

entre YOUTH

News: Updates on the project!

entreYOUTH is an EU project aiming to develop a transnational non-formal education entrepreneurial youth worker training programme targeting youth and youth workers, with the goals of promoting active citizenship, young people's sense of initiative, and youth entrepreneurship, including social entrepreneurship.

With this past November marking one year since the launch of our project, our partnership has been working hard to reach our project deliverables, making important progress.

Following our scheduled monthly meeting for the past month of March, all partners have been working on our project deliverables with a focus on the development of our Project Results, setting new monthly goals.

With our 3rd transnational meeting coming up later this summer as well as our community training event pilot we were able to set dates and targets for these two events.

Project Result 1: Sustainable & circular urban food enterprising (SURFE) curriculum

Having completed our development of the material that will be included in the curriculum we are happy to announce that it will be soon uploaded to our website and will be available for viewing to people interested in learning more about it.

The curriculum covers the following:

- Finding opportunities from waste in the transition from a linear to a circular economy and food
- Social entrepreneurship and entrepreneurship principles
- Motivating, inspiring, and training the community to engage
- Shifting to digital

A blend of innovative approaches was used to build the SURFE (Sustainable & circular urban food enterprising) curriculum, always with a learner-centred philosophy in mind. The techniques used are:

Technology-Based Learning, Virtual Community Environment Simulator, Interactive training to enhance learners' engagement, Expositive videos to engage learners with the contents and Community Based Learning with on the-spot training, which is the most prominent practical methodological approach in this training course.

Also, Case Studies have been incorporated using data collected.

Project Result 2: Youth worker train-the-trainer toolkit

Continuous work is being done to complete our Youth worker train-the-trainer toolkit (TTT) whilst focusing on the refinement of the educational material that has been gathered while nearing its completion. This Result represents the first attempt to offer a comprehensive blended training manual for junior and senior young workers (on sustainable and circular urban food entrepreneurship) while relying on online training methodologies.

The TTT is built in response to the skills gaps identified for youth workers. Its aims are to accomplish broader learning priorities like learner engagement, civic engagement, social cohesion, or employability and is the very first TTT on circular and sustainable urban food enterprise that incorporates behavioural techniques and builds on the EntreComp and DigComp competency frameworks of the EU (and has EntreComp accreditation)

Project Result 4: Digital open community food sharing cloud platform

The platform will address food providers and consumers who wish to announce food supply and food demand, allowing location tracking and needs filtering while offering direct messages and one2one connection. Following the launch of the beta version of the platform, our partners are hard at work preparing the platform, fixing any bugs that might arise and refining the platform to prepare for general use.

Community training event pilot (7th-13th of July)

Following our 3rd transnational meeting that will take place on the 6th of July, a community training event pilot will take place between the dates of the 7th and 13th of July.

Keep up with our news and actions and help us promote environmental practices tackling grand challenges through innovative solutions, boosting quality, innovation and recognition of youth work.
